PRICE THREE CENTS

CHESTER A. ARTHUR.

Death of the Ex-President and a Distinguished Citizen of the United States This Morning.

New York, Nov. 18.—Ex-President Chester A. Arthur died at 5 o'clock this morning at his residence, No. 123 Lexington avenue. He has been ailing for some time from a complication of diseases, principally kidney affection. He had spent the summer at a watering place and it was supposed that this had strengthened somewhat his enfeebled constitution. Death was unexpected, it not being supposed outside of his house that he was in any immediate danger.

As soon as the news of Mr. Arthur's death was made public, many flags on public and private buildings were placed at half mast. A stroke of cerebral apoplexy, sudden, but not wholly unexpected by the attending physicians, terminated his life. The stroke came in his sleep between Tuesday night and Wednesday morning and he did not rally thereafter. His death was painless, like the slow going out of a burned down candle and for hours before the end came he was unconscious to his surroundings.

HIS LAST MOMENTS.

His son, daughter and sister, his former law partner, Sherman W. Knevals, and his closest friend, Surgeon Rollins, were at his bedside. With the beginning of the present week a change for the better set in. Tuesday, the ex-president felt better and stronger than at any time since he was taken sick and commented hopefully upon the fact. It was after midnight when his attendant left him alone in his bed room and nothing was heard of him during the early morning hours. He was not disturbed until his attendant entered his room at 8 o'clock yesterday morning. He found Mr. Arthur lying on his side breathing heavily and could not rouse him. The family answered his summons, but failed to elicit any sign of consciousness or recognition from him.

A STROKE OF APPOPLEXY.

Dr. George A. Peters came, and at once saw he was suffering from a stroke of cerebral apoplexy. A small blood vessel in the brain burst and paralysis of the right side ensued. Mr. Arthur lay motionless and speechless all day. He knew all that was going on about him, for he squeezed the doctor's hand and put out his tongue when told to do so, but he never spoke or gave any other sign of consciousness. Last night at six the signs of physical failure indicated that the end was drawing near. A change for the worse came on rapidly and his sisters and children were gathered at his side.

HIS CHILDREN.

Mr. Arthur was fifty-six years old and had been a widower seven years. His son, Chester Allan, is twenty-two years old. He was graduated from Princeton college a year ago and is now a student in the Columbia law school. The daughter, Miss Nellie, is fourteen years old.

CHESTER A. ARTHUR.

Chester A. Arthur was born in Franklin county, Vermont, on the fifth of October, 1830, one of a family of two sons and five daughters, the children of Wm. Arthur, who had left his native Ireland when a youth eighteen years of age. After having been in the new world a few years, the elder Arthur entered the ministry of the Baptist denomination. During his long life he held a considerable number of pastorates, including that of Calvary church, New York City. He was a man of learning and ability, a superior preacher and writer, and his death in October, 1875, which took place at Newtonville, near Albany, was widely regretted.

His distinguished son was educated at Union college, where he was graduated in the class of 1849. He then taught school in Vermont for two years, after which, having saved about five hundred dollars of his salary, he went to New York City and became a law student in the office of ex-Judge E. D. Culver. He was in due time admitted to the bar of New York. Having determined on changing his place of residence, in company with his particular friend, Henry D. Gardner, he traveled in the west for three months, in order to find a desirable place in which to begin the practice of the legal profession in partnership with him. Finding no place to their liking the young men returned to New York, and opened an office in that city, where they were successful almost from the beginning. As soon as desirable, the question of his finances being duly considered, Mr. Arthur took a wife, a daughter of Lieutenant Herndon. This estimable lady died a few years ago.

Early in his professional career, Mr. Arthur performed such services for the colored people as gained for him their affectionate admiration, and gave him great prominence as a lawyer. In the year 1852, a Virginian slave-holder and his wife, Johnathan and Juliet Lemmon, took eight slaves with them from their state to New York City, from which they intended to take a ship for Texas, where they were about to begin a new establishment. Upon application, Judge Paine granted a writ of habeas corpus in behalf of the slaves, and the legal question involved in the subsequent proceedings, was whether the provisions of the fugitive slave law were in force in New York state. Judge Paine decided against this claim, and the captives were liberated. Thereupon the legislature of Virginia authorized the attorney general of the state to assist in taking an appeal against Judge Paine's decision. Wm. M. Everts and Chester A. Arthur were employed in the interest of the citizens of their state against that of the slaveholders, and won the case; and when, subsequently, it was brought under the consideration of the supreme court of the United States, were again successful. A few years afterwards, in 1856, Mr. Arthur took up the cause of a poor colored woman who had been expelled from a Fourth avenue car in New York City after paying her fare. He brought an action against the company and recovered five hundred dollars damages for his client. The day after this victory over prejudice was gained, the company who had been defeated in the action, issued a formal order, giving colored people permission to ride in its cars, and in a short time this right became general throughout the city.

Mr. Arthur was one of the delegates of that convention meeting in Saratoga, which founded the republican party. He had been a whig previously, which reminds the writer that the day after he had been nominated for the vice-presidency by the Chicago convention, the late Thurlow Tweed said of him: "I have known him for twenty-five years as whig, and republican, and a more loyal party man and truer republican cannot be found anywhere." The nearly seven years which have elapsed since that time, and during which Mr. Arthur's party allegiance has never been questioned, have also made more conspicuous than heretofore, an amiability and noble breadth of sympathy which command the friendly regard of persons who differ widely from him in their political views. Before the civil war Mr. Arthur acted as judge advocate of the Second brigade of the New York state militia. Upon going into office Governor E. D. Morgan made him engineer in chief of his staff, and in 1861, inspector general. This was succeeded by his accession under Governor Morgan's appointment, to the responsible position of quartermaster general, in which he continued until the close of the "war governor's" administration. His discharge of its duties was remarkably able and conscientious. In this respect it was absolutely above criticism. Affairs involving the equipment and transportation of hundreds of thousands of men were administered by him in a manner which elicited the greatest confidence and sincere admiration.

When governor Morgan's term of office expired, Mr. Arthur returned to the practice of his profession, which included interests of national importance. He acted for some time as counsel to the board of tax commissioners of New York City. Towards the end of 1871, President Grant appointed him to the collectorship of the port of New York, in which office he remained until June 12, 1878. His removal by President Hayes was strongly censured, as strict investigation showed that his incumbency of his office was characterized by singular efficiency and integrity. As chairman of the republican state committee, Mr. Arthur contributed largely to the strength of his party in the Empire state.

On the 8th of June, 1880, he was nominated to the vice presidency of the United States by the national republican convention held at Chicago, by a vote of 468—afterwards made unanimous—out of a total of 768. The ticket in which his name had prevailed in the succeeding elections. President Garfield was inaugurated and began his administration under encouraging conditions. Subsequent divisions in the republican party were followed by the assassination of the president, who died on the night of September 19, 1881. President Arthur took the oath of office in his own house in New York City, a few hours after this lamentable event. He was formally inaugurated at Washington, Sept. 22, when he again took the oath of office, which was administered by Chief Justice Waite. The next day he issued a proclamation making the 26th of September, 1881, the day on which the remains of President Garfield were to be interred at Cleveland, Ohio, a day of humiliation and mourning. President Arthur's administration was considered wise by people who judge of it without party bias. He gained greatly in public esteem by his amiable self-effacement during the illness of President Garfield. After his inauguration he is said to have made good the promise contained in the brief, unpretending speech which he delivered on that occasion. Referring to his lamented predecessor, he said, "It will be my earnest endeavor to profit and to see that the nation shall profit by his experience."

THE BLIZZARD.

It is Severe on the Lakes and Damaged Related Vessels.

CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—The western blizzard reached this city last night and early this morning the wind was blowing at the rate of thirty-four miles an hour, accompanied by quite a heavy fall of snow.

The storm on the lake continues with considerable fury, and strong winds are prevailing throughout the west, with the air filled with snow. A number of lumber luggers reached port this morning, having lost some canvas and sustained other damage, but no serious disasters have been reported. Railway travel in the west and northwest is greatly delayed and a number of roads in Wisconsin have trains stalled in the drifts.

Reports from all Iowa points indicate snow still falling and drifting badly.

Business Failures.

STREATOR, Ill., Nov. 18.—The store of Levi Bros., dealers in notions, was closed by the sheriff yesterday. Liabilities, $20,000; assets unknown.

BAY CITY, Mich., Nov. 18.—Laderach Bros., lumber manufacturers, have assigned. Liabilities, $30,000; assets, $15,000.

MUSKOGEE, Mich., Nov. 18.—A. E. Truesdell & Co., furniture, carpets, etc., and Levi Truesdell, groceries, had their stores closed on attachments yesterday. Liabilities aggregate $25,000; assets ample.

TWO SISTERS.

Are Burned to Death in an Indiana Home.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 18.—A News special says that the house of James Johnson, near Loudonville, burned this morning, and his two daughters, Ella and Minnie, aged respectively eighteen and twenty years, perished in the flames. They occupied the upper rooms and an employe named Turner is probably fatally burned. One of the sons had built a fire at 3 o'clock this morning, and finding it so early went back to bed and it is supposed that it caught from this.

A KICK.

A Republican Protest Against Unseating Democratic Members in Indiana.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 18.—It has leaked out to-day that a secret conference of several republican members-elect to the legislature was held here last night. The attendance was very slim, and those whose seats are being contested by democrats were the most interested and uneasy.

The utmost secrecy is being observed regarding the conference. Enough, however, is known to warrant the conclusion that the republican senators-elect are thoroughly alarmed at the prospect of being unseated by the democrats if the republicans begin throwing out democrats in the house, and are entering protests against the proposed republican program. They prefer a democratic United States senator rather than risk the loss of four years in the state senate.

This "kicking" on their part may be the solution of the difficulty and force the republicans to allow the democrats to elect their senator in peace. If not there will be music along the line.

Charley Jewett, speaker of the last house, is in town to-night. He says: "The democratic position is impregnable. A party that has two majorities on joint ballot and the governor of the state is invincible, and the republicans will reach the same conclusion before they begin any revolutionary tactics."

CIVIL SERVICE.

The Philadelphia Postmaster to get a Taste of It.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—It is probable that the civil service commissioners will proceed to Philadelphia Monday next to begin an investigation into the charges made against Postmaster Harry by the Pennsylvania Civil Service reform association. Commissioner Edgerton was adverse to ordering the investigation, and it is doubtful if he will conduct the hearing in Philadelphia. In addition to the formal charges against the postmaster preferred by the civil service reform association several other communications charging political discrimination and violation of civil service rules have been received by the commissioners.

Convicted of Murder.

GRAND RAPIDS, Nov. 18.—Dr. Nathan J. Aiken, the well known physician, was convicted in the superior court, of causing the death of Mary Noel, daughter of a farmer of Grandville, by abortion. He was paid to treat and board the girl until nature relieved her of the difficulty, but used violent means to accomplish the result sooner. The jury retired at 11 o'clock and rendered a verdict at 9 last night. Aiken was badly broken up by the result. He is now in jail, but will appeal to the supreme court.

A. L. HOPKINS.

His Wife, a Noted Beauty, Alleges Adultery.

New York, Nov. 18.—Mrs. Lawrence Hopkins, a noted New York beauty and a leader in society, has brought suit for divorce against her husband, Amos Lawrence Hopkins, vice president of the Missouri Pacific Railway company, and son of President Mark Hopkins, of Williams college. Mrs. Hopkins is a daughter of George L. Dunlap, a leading Chicago merchant. The couple have been married seven years. It is said that the ground of the application for divorce is adultery. George Bliss has been retained for Mrs. Hopkins, and Dillon and Swayne, for Mr. Hopkins.

TWO TRAINS

Run Off the Track and Several Persons Are Killed and Injured.

VINCENNES, Ind., Nov. 18.—Thenorth bound passenger train on the Cairo, Vincennes and Chicago road ran into a fallen tree, Tuesday night, near Lawrenceville, causing a bad wreck and killing the fireman, Fred Esch, and injuring Engineer Barlow. No passengers were hurt.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 18.—A passenger train on the Newport News and Mississippi Valley road partly ran off a trestle, yesterday, near Triplett tunnel. It was caused by a broken wheel. The sleeper was thrown entirely off an eighteen foot trestle. Chief Engineer Lum, the Pullman conductor and several passengers were injured slightly.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Volz very pleasantly entertained a party of young people at their home on Clay street last evening. The occasion was in honor of Miss Weber, Mrs. Volz's sister, who is her guest. Progressive euchre was a feature of the evening, followed by a superb luncheon.

The funeral of the late A. C. McDonald occurred at Columbia City yesterday in the presence of a vast concourse of friends. Many high tributes were paid to the deceased and the friends of the family attended from all over the district.

Four first-class lectures and a grand concert for only one dollar. Such are the privileges offered by the Dollar Lecture Course, inaugurated by the young people of the Wayne Street M. E. church. Dr. H. B. Ridgeway delivers the first lecture of the course to-morrow (Friday) evening. Subject, "Richard Cobden, the English Commoner." Single admission, 25c. Lecture begins at 8 o'clock, city time.

FRIGHTFUL WRECK.

A Huge Mass of Rock and Earth Fell Upon a Passing Train, Crushing Eight People.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 18.—The limited express coming east on the Pittsburg, Cincinnati and St. Louis railroad, due at this city at 6:30 this morning, was wrecked by a land slide at Jones ferry, at the outskirts of the city, and a number of persons were injured, two of them, it is thought, fatally. The heavy rains of the past thirty-six hours had loosened the earth along the road and the conductor had been notified to proceed carefully. The train was running not more than ten miles an hour and just as it reached Jones' ferry a mass of rocks and earth came tumbling down from a precipice forty feet above. The huge mass crushed into the three sleepers, which were in the rear.

The interior of the front car was almost completely demolished. It was the Cincinnati sleeper, and fortunately had a smaller number of passengers than any coach that has gone out of Cincinnati on the limited for months. All of the occupants had arisen and most of them were in the forward part of the coach preparing their toilets. The two other sleepers were badly wrecked. The train was taken on to the station, where it was found that eight passengers were seriously hurt, while probably as many more had received painful cuts and bruises.

The list of injured is as follows:

David Arnheim, Pittsburg, head badly cut and his body and breast crushed. It is feared that he is injured internally and is in a precarious condition.

S. A. Bennett, New York, seriously hurt.

Capt. O. A. Doud, Pittsburg, not dangerously hurt.

Mrs. Lieutenant Glass, Fort Bayard, N. M., slight injury.

E. A. Curtis, New York, severely though not dangerously injured.

J. Lipman, Indianapolis, not seriously injured.

A young lady from Terre Haute, Ind., name not learned, was struck by flying pieces of rock and hurt about the head and body.

Mr. Fowler Washington, D. C., slightly hurt.

A number of other passengers were slightly injured.

Funeral of Mr. Frank Stutzenberger. The funeral of the late Mr. Frank Stutzenberger occurred, at 9 o'clock this morning, from the Cathedral, where Rev. Father Oechtering officiated and paid high tribute to the character of the deceased. The remains reposed in a costly casket furnished by J. C. Pelletier, the funeral director, and on it lay floral offerings, both numerous and beautiful, notable among them being a tender cross and anchor, woven from tea roses, immortelles, lilies and pansies, the gift of the Misses Mary Phelan and Anna Toomey, of Indianapolis. The cortege was a large one, and besides his neighbors, friends and relatives from La Porte, Decatur, Hesse Cassel and elsewhere, also attended. His brothers, John and Mike, attended, the latter having been at his bedside constantly since he was summoned home by message. In his arms he breathed his last.

The young man leaves a widow and two children, Frankie, aged twelve, and Laura, aged eight. It is a severe blow to his aged parents, who are stricken with grief at the loss of a dutiful son, kind brother, loving husband and father. Peace to his ashes.

Our druggist informs us that Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup sells better than any other cough medicine.

"Now it's all right, it's all right, darling," said Mrs. Workhard, "I have tested it thoroughly. Salvation Oil will surely cure your pain in the back."

No reason to go along shivering, rubbing your hands and swinging your arms to keep warm when you can procure, if a man, an overcoat as low as $2.50; a boy, one as cheap as $2.00, and children's overcoats down to $1.25, at Friend's Enterprise, 26 Calhoun street. MRS. MARY HEISER.

An Old Resident of Allen County Quietly Passes Away.

In Monroeville, on the 30th inst, Mary Heiser, aged eighty-five years, nine months and twenty-eight days, died. The deceased was the mother of Mrs. Garrett Hunsicker, of Monroeville. Since the death of her husband, which occurred one year ago, the 23rd day of last July, she has lived with the family of Mr. Hunsicker, where after a few days of illness she has passed quietly and peacefully away.

The deceased had, through a long life, been remarkably healthy. Prior to the death of her husband, and for many years, they lived on their farm near the pleasant little village of Williamsport, Ind.

God abundantly blessed them with years and plenty. Mother Heiser had a host of friends. She was always kind and amiable, drawing both old and young to her. She was indeed a Christian, having lived from early childhood a life consecrated to the Master. Her last days were made very pleasant indeed to her, receiving the tenderest care at the hands of her children.

The funeral services were well attended. The services were conducted by Rev. A. J. Douglas. A goodly number followed the remains to Williamsport, where a sermon suitable for the occasion was preached to a very large audience, in the United Brethren church, after which the remains were placed to rest in the beautiful cemetery of that place.

The deceased leaves several children to mourn her departure. The large number that met the remains at Williamsport, and the sympathy shown by the people coming from the old home of the deceased, gave unmistakable evidence of the esteem in which the family were held. Peace to the ashes of a good old mother.

The Odd Fellows Officered.

At the meeting of the grand encampment, I. O. O. F., of Indiana, yesterday afternoon, at Indianapolis, a resolution was adopted contributing $500 to the Colfax monument fund. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year, following it with their installation:

Grand High Priest—A. S. Milice, Warsaw.

Grand Senior Warden—C. W. Scott, Lebanon.

Grand Junior Warden—Laurence Gates, Angola.

Grand Scribe—B. F. Foster, Indianapolis.

Grand Treasurer—Theo. P. Haughey, Indianapolis.

Grand Representatives to Sovereign Grand Lodge—C. B. Cooper and F. R. A. Jeter.

Grand Sentinel—Joseph S. Watson, Indianapolis.

Deputy Grand Sentinel—A. P. Bennett.

Card of Thanks to the Friends and Patrons of Joseph Biechle, Canton, Ohio.

I have sold my soaps in the City of Fort Wayne and surrounding towns longer than any manufacturer in this country, and have always tried to please. The sale of my soaps to the good citizens show that the good quality of my soaps are appreciated better than all others. I always sell honest goods at reasonable prices to put them in the reach of the poor as well as the rich. Thanking you for the liberal patronage bestowed upon me and awaiting the same for the future, I remain very truly yours,

JOSEPH BIECHLE.

THE CENTURY.

For 1886-87.

The Century is an illustrated monthly magazine, having a regular circulation of about two hundred thousand copies, often reaching and sometimes exceeding two hundred and twenty-five thousand. Chief among its many attractions for the coming year is a serial which has been in active preparation for sixteen years. It is a history of our own country in its most critical time as set forth in

THE LIFE OF LINCOLN.

BY HIS CONFIDENTIAL SECRETARIES, JOHN G. NICOLAY AND COL. JOHN HAY.

This great work, begun with the sanction of President Lincoln, and continued under the authority of his son, the Hon. Robert T. Lincoln, is the only full and authoritative record of the life of Abraham Lincoln. Its authors were friends of Lincoln before his presidency; they were most intimately associated with him as private secretaries throughout his term of office, and to them was transferred upon Lincoln's death all his private papers. Here will be told the inside history of the civil war and of President Lincoln's administration, important details of which have hitherto remained unrevealed, that they might first appear in this authentic history. By reason of the publication of this work.

THE WAR SERIES, which has been followed with undiminished interest by a great audience, will occupy less space during the coming year. Gettysburg will be described by Gen. Hunt (Chief of the Union Artillery), Gen. Longstreet, Gen. E. M. Law, and others; Chickamauga, by Gen. D. H. Hill; Sherman's March to the Sea, by Generals Howard and Slocum. Generals Q. A. Gillmore, Wm. F. Smith, John Gibbon, Horace Porter and John S. Mosby will describe special battles and incidents. Stories of naval engagements, prison life, etc., will appear.

NOVELS AND STORIES.

"The Hundredth Man," a novel by Frank R. Stockton, author of "The Lady, or the Tiger," etc., begins in November. Two novelettes by Geo. W. Cable, stories by Mary Halleck Foote, "Uncle Remus," Julian Hawthorne, Edward Eggleston, and other prominent American authors will be printed during the year.

SPECIAL FEATURES (with illustrations) include a series of articles on affairs in Russia and Siberia, by George Kennan, author of "Tent Life in Siberia," who has just returned from a most eventful visit to Siberian prisons; papers on the Food Question, with reference to its bearing on the Labor Problem; English Cathedrals; Dr. Eggleston's Religious Life in the American Colonies; Men and Women of Queen Anne's Reign, by Mrs. Oliphant; Clairvoyance, Spiritualism, Astrology, etc., by the Rev. J. M. Buckley, D. D., editor of the Christian Advocate; Astronomical Papers; Articles throwing light on Bible History, etc.

PRICES, A FREE COPY.

Subscription price, $4.00 a year, 35 cents a number. Dealers, postmasters, and the publishers take subscriptions. Send for our beautifully illustrated 24-page catalogue (free), containing full prospectus, etc., including a special offer by which new readers can get back numbers to the beginning of the War Series at a very low price. A specimen copy (back number) will be sent on request. Mention this paper.

ST. JACOBS OIL

FOR RHEUMATISM.

MARVELOUS EXPERIENCES.

Suffered 30 Years and Cured.

New Bloomfield, Perry Co., Pa.
I wish to inform you of a most miraculous and marvelous circumstance. For more than thirty years I have been afflicted with rheumatism, from which I suffered so severely that at times it was impossible for me to get from my home to the office, only a few steps away. I had resorted to the use of morphine to secure rest at night. I spent hundreds of dollars with different physicians and tried every known remedy without deriving any benefit whatever. Five years ago, I was induced to try St. Jacobs Oil, which effected an entire and permanent cure, and I have not been troubled with this dread disease since. Cold nor damp weather does not effect me at all.
J. E. BONNELL,
Clerk, Courts of Perry County, Pa.

A Railroad Man Cured.

Old Colony R. R. Engine House, Braintree, Mass.
I have had rheumatism for the past fifteen years. Have had it so badly at times that I have had to get down stairs on my hands and knees; have suffered untold agony; have tried all the medicines advertised to cure rheumatism, without any beneficial result. For the past two years have been growing worse. I have lost the use of my hand and feet. Had about made up my mind that nothing on earth would cure me. I was induced to try St. Jacobs Oil. I procured a bottle, applied it, and my joints grew supple. After using two bottles I was cured as well as ever. I have regained the use of my hands and feet, am relieved of all pain, and consider myself cured.

SENATOR McDONALD.

The Distinguished Statesman Talks on Hoosier Politics at Chicago.

CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—Hon. Joseph E. McDonald, of Indiana, is in the city on law business, and was one of the distinguished guests at the Iroquois club banquet, last night. In speaking of the political situation in his state, last night, he said: "We are very hopeful of holding our own and electing a democratic successor to Senator Harrison. On the face of the returns the senate stands thirty-one democrats, nineteen republicans, and the house fifty-five republicans, forty-five democrats; that gives a majority of two to the democrats. The republicans are contesting some two or three senatorial districts, and at least three districts in the house, and the democrats are contesting three in the house and six in the senate. The republicans allege the constitutional ineligibility of Meagher, a democratic labor-union man elected from Vigo county, on the ground that he is holding a judicial office, which, under our constitution, would disqualify him from holding any other office during the term for which he was elected. They also say that Mock, elected from Wells county, had, during the war, while teaching school in Canada, taken the oath of allegiance to Queen Victoria, and never after renounced it. It is contended on our part that Meagher did not become ineligible for the reason that the office to which he had been elected by the popular vote was abolished by the board of commissioners of Vigo county before the term could begin, and that he never was in fact a judicial officer. The commissioners, under our constitution, are empowered to regulate the number of justices of the peace, to which office Meagher was elected last spring. At the September meeting the commissioners reduced the number of justices in Vigo county from five to three, and consequently Meagher could not qualify for an office that did not exist. As to the charge against Mock, it is denied absolutely. The third democrat whose seat the republicans are contesting is said to have been elected by an alleged mistake in the count, and a recount has been ordered in two counties in the district, which will begin the first of the week. We do not think there is any probability of their finding any miscount of the vote.

"The democrats are contesting a member from the Knox district, on the ground that according to the constitution he has not been a citizen of our state the length of time required to make him eligible to the office, and our friends think the fact will justify the contest. In the other districts in which contests are pending they are chiefly on the ground that the republican candidates-elect had been guilty of bribery, and also, that there was illegal voting. The contest for the control of the legislature is, therefore, likely to be a somewhat earnest and acrimonious one, and no one can now predict what the outcome will be, although, as I say, we are hopeful."

"Is Congressman Bynum a candidate for senator?"

"I do not think he is."

"How do you account for republican gains in the congressional representation?"

"Well, the republicans have elected seven out of thirteen members of congress, making a gain in the First, Ninth, Tenth and Twelfth districts, and I think this can be attributed to a variety of causes. A good deal of it is due to dissatisfaction resulting from federal appointments and other like causes. You may make this point, however, that all our losses were caused by the stay-at-home vote. In the counties in which we had a full vote we held our own, and some we made gains; and in counties where the vote was light our loss was greatest; and this is not noticeable in the strongest democratic districts. I don't think any number of democrats voted for the republican state ticket; they simply didn't go to the polls and vote our ticket."

We will give $20 to the person telling us which is the longest verse in the New Testament Scriptures, (not the revised edition), by December 10th, 1886. Should two or more correct answers be received, the reward will be divided. The money will be forwarded to the winner December 15th, 1886. Persons trying for the reward must send 20 cents in silver or postal notes, (no postage stamps taken) with their answer, for which they will receive the Monthly for January in which the name and address of the winner of the reward and the correct answer will be published, and in which several more valuable rewards will be offered. The Only Child Ever Born in the White House.

If all the children to be born in the White House at Washington are as good looking as the one who first blinked his red eyes at the daylight there, then they may be congratulated. Rather curiously, no child was ever born in any presidential family during their residence at Washington. Weddings there have been not a few, and some deaths, alas!—very and once, too—but no births. Good President Lincoln's youngest and beloved boy faded out of life there, and his sad-browed father mourned him ever after. Presidents themselves have died there, and been buried with the utmost pomp of state.

But of the three events which are of supreme importance alike to all humanity, the initiatory one seems to have been skipped in the halls of the nation's chief executive. The people are hoping sincerely that the rule will be changed during the present term. If it is it will be this administration's highest success.

Hal T. Walker was born in the White House in 1845, during the administration of President Polk.

When the little new prince of Spain got his first pair of shoes 300 little children of the poor of Madrid got shoes, too, all the same. How pleasant it would be, thinks The New York Sun, if the coming of a small American prince or princess should give occasion to the poor children of Washington to be remembered in a similar manner.

The First Keen Twinge.

As the season advances the pains and aches by which rheumatism makes itself known, are experienced after every exposure. It is not claimed that Hood's Sarsaparilla is a specific for rheumatism—we doubt if there is, or can be, such a remedy. But the thousands benefited by Hood's Sarsaparilla, warrant us in urging others who suffer from rheumatism to take it before the first keen twinge.

The statistics from the Indiana election indicate that far too many democrats in the Hoosier state failed to do their duty November 2. There is a falling off of nearly 30,000 votes, and the republican figures do not indicate that they went to that party.

Scribner's Magazine

Published Monthly WITH ILLUSTRATIONS! FIRST NUMBER READY DEC. 15TH.

Scribner's Magazine will be in the widest sense a magazine of general literature, and each number will be fully illustrated.

Some of the most notable papers to appear during the first year are a series of Unpublished Letters of Thackeray of very great autobiographical value; ex-Minister E. B. Washburne's Reminiscences of the Siege and Commune of Paris; Glimpes at the Diaries of Gouverneur Morris, Minister to France at the close of the last century (giving descriptions of social life and characters at the time); a collection of contemporary letters describing Early New York and New England Society.

There is much excellent fiction, including a serial by Harold Frederic; stories extending through several numbers by H. C. Bunner, J. S. Dale, and others; and short stories by R. L. Stevenson, Joel Chandler Harris, T. A. Janvier, Miss Jewett, Octave Thanet, H. H. Boyesen, Miss Crosby, and a host of others.

Notable special papers to be published very early are General F. A. Walker's on Socialism; Dr. William Hayes Ward's on Babylonian Cylinders; Mr. John C. Ropes' on the Portraits of Caesar; Captain Greene's on Coast Defense, etc., etc.

Scribner's Magazine will be published at $3.00 a year, or 25 cents a copy. Subscriptions may be sent to any news-dealer or bookseller, or to

THE CITY NEWS.

Miss Salinger went to New York City this morning.

Rev. Father Demmig, of Avilla, was in the city yesterday.

Mrs. Lottie Eickenberg, of Toledo, is visiting friends in Fort Wayne.

If all the electric street lamps burn Fort Wayne is the best lighted city in America.

The prohibition vote in the Twelfth congressional district was 1,078 at the last election.

Mr. and Mrs. Mason Long will tonight entertain the Baptist social at their home, No. 86 East Main street.

The Chicago fat stock show closes Saturday. The excursions will then cease and progressive euchre will get a show.

Noble county wants a big safe to put court records and books into. It would be a nice receptacle for dinner baskets and such, also.

Simpson M. E. church gives a grand concert and oyster supper to-night in the church, corner of Harrison and Dawson street.

The SENTINEL predicted a blizzard in its weather report yesterday and here it is. THE SENTINEL prints the news and enjoys a great advertising boom, thank you.

On December 1, the butchers will all close their shops on Sunday. Meat will now keep over Sunday without a refrigerator, and the meat men propose to observe God's day.

While coupling cars at Hometown, on the Grand Rapids and Indiana railroad the coupling iron broke, and part of it hit Clarence Keyes, a brakeman, on the jaw, knocking out his back teeth. Keyes lives at Kalamazoo.

The Sobreit-Miller company, of Mansfield, Ohio, manufacturers of carriage hardware, are in search of a place to locate. They employ 300 men and it might pay some enterprising Fort Wayne gentleman to strike up a correspondence with them.

Gambling houses, ill-fame hovels and "society" meeting joints are too numerous in this city. Captain Deihl can make a record for himself by ridding the town of these pests. Just about this time railroad men resort the gaming table to drop their monthly earnings and leave a family at home suffering for the necessities of life. Stop it, captain.

On Saturday, November 20, Hon. J. H. Winterbotham and his estimable wife will celebrate their golden wedding at Michigan City. Mr. Winterbotham will also be seventy-four years of age and has not neglected to remember Fort Wayne friends with cards. The occasion will be quietly observed owing to the ill-health of the senator, but old friends will be present from a half-dozen states.

The Y. M. C. A. dates its incursion back to 1844. In that year a clerk in one of the eastern cities gathered several of his associates together and offered up prayer for the clerks of that city. Other meetings followed which grew in interest and attendance, and the first organization was effected in Boston in 1851. Now there are at least 3,000 organized societies in the United States, and the association is spreading its work all over the civilized world.

The Pennsylvania lines have again reduced the running time of the limited express west bound between New York and Chicago. That train, instead of leaving New York at 9 a. m., as heretofore, leaves there at 11 a. m., two hours later, arriving in Chicago at 11 a. m. next day, or one hour and thirty minutes later than heretofore, shortening the through time thirty minutes. The time of the limited express east bound will remain the same as ever.

The Pittsburg pay car went west this morning.

Gerhard Schwank, of Avilla, was in the city to-day.

Peter O. Burwell and Mary A. Holtz have been licensed to wed.

Several new cases of diphtheria are reported from Frenchtown.

The Fort Wayne commandery, Knights Templar, meets to-night in regular convocation.

Don't forget the Berry street M. E. church concert, fifty voices, the 24th of November.

A two year old child of Michael Koehl died this morning of lung fever, at No. 30 Buchanan street.

Councilman Webber has called a meeting of the committee on water works for this evening.

Mrs. I. D. G. Nelson continues very ill at Indianapolis and in the past week was considered some worse.

W. H. Miller, of Leipsic, Ohio, drew $400 in the Louisiana lottery and sent his ticket here to be cashed.

The gas well at Muncie increases the volume of its output each day. It now emits 1,500,000 feet of gas daily.

The street commissioners were out in the blizzard this morning looking at proposed street and alley openings.

F. M. Zushlen has taken out a permit to build an addition to his frame house on lot 28, Eliza Hanna's addition, to cost $150.

Scipio Gorrell, a switchman of the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago railroad, had his foot hurt at the east yards last night.

Maek Harbaugh, a Bluffton boy, well known here, is now assistant express messenger on the Bee Line road, running to Indianapolis.

W. H. Andrews, traveling agent of the American Express company, was in the city to-day. He went west on the Nickel Plate for an inspection.

Dr. Lloyd Houghton, a graduate of the University of Buffalo, N. Y., has been admitted to practice medicine under the Indiana law.

Wayne Anvil, who was indicted for petit larceny, pleaded guilty before Judge O'Rourke this morning and was sentenced to ten days in jail.

Mina, the two year old child of Albert Thompson, died last night of the croup, at its home, No. 138 Francis street. The funeral occurs to-morrow afternoon.

The Sunday school of Trinity M. E. church, assisted by the choir of the M. E. college, will give a concert at Trinity M. E. church, north side, this evening.

Rev. D. W. Moffat will conduct the services at the Railroad Y. M. C. A. union meeting this evening. The subject will be "From Loss to Gain." All are cordially invited.

The council committees on streets, and rules, regulations and ordinances will meet with City Attorney Colerick to-night and adopt an ordinance permitting a double street railway track on Calhoun street.

Judge A. A. Chapin, this morning, received his commission as superior court judge and will take his office. The preliminary work in Judge Hensch's application for a recount will begin next Monday before Judge O'Rourke, who will appoint a commission to superintend the work.

Judge John Morris and Hon. R. C. Bell encountered two men at the corner of Harrison and Jefferson streets, about 7 o'clock, last night. One of the fellows jostled against Senator Bell as if he had designs on his purse or watch, and a hard scuffle ensued, in which both men were bespattered with mud. Judge Morris and the other stranger viewed the contest from across the street, and as a crowd assembled, the strangers fled. Chief Diehl summoned a posse of police, and soon had John Yager and George Russell behind the bars. The men were identified, but Mr. Bell declined to make affidavit against them this morning, and the mayor discharged the young men. Yager is the fellow whom Harry Ham-mill chastised last summer for his insolence.

The trains all came in on time to-day, although the snow blew hard.

Interesting local, telegraph and miscellaneous news on the inside pages daily. A feature to-day is an interview with Hon. Joseph E. McDonald on Indiana politics.

George Huber, who was indicted for stealing a ring from Emma Stapleford, had a trial this morning, and after hearing the evidence, Judge O'Rourke committed him to jail for thirty days.

In the case of Sam H. Shoaff et al. vs. Frank H. Wolke, Judge Hensch approved the deed submitted by George D. Crane, commissioner in the case. In the case of the Huntington National bank vs. John Blea, he awarded the bank a judgment for $204.16.

Augusta Kramer sues Cornelius Carmedy for $1,000 damages. A. H. Bittinger is her counsel, and alleges that Carmedy entered her house, assaulted her and fired her bodily from her own hearth. This is a continuation of the neighborhood quarrel aired before the mayor, Tuesday.

It is said the United States express company will shortly cease its service on the Grand Rapids road, to be succeeded by the Adams express company which is in high favor with the Pennsylvania company, and that corporation has a lease on the northern road. This crowds the United States express company off of all Fort Wayne roads, giving the Adams, American and Pacific a clear field here.

Judge Edward O'Rourke, last evening, listened to arguments in the friendly suit between A. L. Griebel and J. B. Niezer, relative to the term of office of the county auditor under seemingly conflicting laws. Judge O'Rourke decided that Mr. Griebel having served his full time, his term of office expired with his commission, consequently Mr. Niezer's term began yesterday, November 17. Mr. Griebel appealed from the judgment of the court, and under a bond of $2,000 he will hold the office of auditor until the supreme court passes upon the question. The matter will be taken up at once, and it is anticipated the high court will act upon it inside of a week.

PROGRESSIVE.

Wing & Mahurin Meeting With Chicago Architects.

Architects Wing and Mahurin are in Chicago attending the Western Association of Architects, which met the 17th inst, and lasts for three days. The association has between 800 and 400 members and is composed of all the leading professional architects of the west and northwest, who meet once a year and discuss the work gone over during the building season and exchange ideas, etc., for the future. Various subjects relative to the advancement of architecture in every particular, together with sanitary and all special subjects are thoroughly talked over, enabling those who are aiming to improve the style of building the public are putting up, to make them healthier and more comfortable—to come in contact with not only the best talent the country has, but the actual experience of each individual. Also in connection with the convention there is a building material exhibit, and an architectural drawing display, which brings before each member all the latest materials and appliances used in building and the latest works of the best architects. In conversation with these gentlemen prior to their departure, we found it is their intention to take special pains in securing new ideas and designs for their clients next year. Also to secure photographs of the best work that is brought before them, and on their return they will be pleased to have their friends make them a call.

We are not offering old stock at a reduction or quoting prices on a few old relics of days gone by. But have a complete stock of fresh goods, which we can show in all sizes and widths, at prices that sell them readily.

CHESTER A. ARTHUR.

Death of the Ex-President and a Distinguished Citizen of the United States This Morning.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Ex-President Chester A. Arthur died at 5 o'clock this morning at his residence, No. 123 Lexington avenue. He has been ailing for some time from a complication of diseases, principally kidney affection. He had spent the summer at a watering place and it was supposed that this had strengthened somewhat his enfeebled constitution. Death was unexpected, it not being supposed outside of his home that he was in any immediate danger.

As soon as the news of Mr. Arthur's death was made public, many flags on public and private buildings were placed at half mast. A stroke of cerebral apoplexy, sudden, but not wholly unexpected by the attending physicians, terminated his life. The stroke came in his sleep between Tuesday night and Wednesday morning and he did not rally thereafter. His death was painless, like the slow going out of a burned down candle and for hours before the end came he was unconscious to his surroundings.

HIS LAST MOMENTS.

His son, daughter and sister, his former law partner, Sherman W. Knapp, and his closest friend, Surrogate Rollins, were at his bedside. With the beginning of the present week a change for the better set in. Tuesday, the ex-president felt better and stronger than at any time since he was taken sick and commented hopefully upon the fact. It was after midnight when his attendant left him alone in his bed room and nothing was heard of him during the early morning hours. He was not disturbed until his attendant entered his room at 8 o'clock yesterday morning. He found Mr. Arthur lying on his side breathing heavily and could not rouse him. The family answered his summons, but failed to elicit any sign of consciousness or recognition from him.

A BEMERK OF APOPLEXY.

Dr. George A. Peters came, and at once saw he was suffering from a stroke of cerebral apoplexy. A small blood vessel in the brain burst and paralysis of the right side ensued. Mr. Arthur lay motionless and speechless all day. He knew all that was going on about him, for he squeezed the doctor's hand and put out his tongue when told to do so, but he never spoke or gave any other sign of consciousness. Last night at six the signs of physical failure indicated that the end was drawing near. A change for the worse came on rapidly and his sister and children were gathered at his side.

HIS CHILDREN.

Mr. Arthur was fifty-six years old and had been a widower seven years. His son, Chester Allan, is twenty-two years old. He was graduated from Princeton college a year ago and is now a student in the Columbia law school. The daughter, Miss Nellie, is fourteen years old.

CHESTER A. ARTHUR.

Chester A. Arthur was born in Franklin county, Vermont, on the fifth of October, 1830, one of a family of two sons and five daughters, the children of Wm. Arthur, who had left his native Ireland when a youth eighteen years of age. After having been in the new world a few years, the elder Arthur entered the ministry of the Baptist denomination. During his long life he held a considerable number of pastoral positions, including that of Calvary church, New York City. He was a man of learning and ability, a superior preacher and writer, and his death in October, 1875, which took place at Newtonville, near Albany, was widely regretted.

His distinguished son was educated at Union college, where he was graduated in the class of 1849. He then taught school in Vermont for two years, after which, having saved about five hundred dollars of his salary, he went to New York City and became a law student in the office of ex-Judge E. D. Culver. He was in the time admitted to the bar of New York. Having determined on changing his place of residence, in company with his particular friend, Henry D. Gardner, he traveled in the west for three months, in order to find a desirable place in which to begin the practice of the legal profession in partnership with him. Finding no place to their liking the young men returned to New York, and opened an office in that city, where they were successful almost from the beginning. As soon as desirable, the question of his finances being duly considered, Mr. Arthur took a wife, a daughter of Lieutenant Horndon. This estimable lady died a few years ago.

Early in his professional career, Mr. Arthur performed such services for the colored people as gained for him their affectionate admiration, and gave him great prominence as a lawyer. In the year 1852, a Virginia slave-holder and his wife, Johnathan and Juliet Lemmon, took eight slaves with them from their state to New York City, from which they intended to take a ship for Texas, where they were about to begin a new establishment. Upon application, Judge Paine granted a writ of habeas corpus in behalf of the slaves, and the legal question involved in the subsequent proceedings, was whether the provisions of the fugitive slave law were in force in New York state. Judge Paine decided against this claim, and the captives were liberated. Thereupon the legislature of Virginia authorized the attorney general of the state to assist in taking an appeal against Judge Paine's decision. Wm. M. Evans and Chester A. Arthur were employed in the interest of the citizens of their state against that of the slave-holders, and won the case; and when, subsequently, it was brought under the consideration of the supreme court of the United States, were again successful. A few years afterwards, in 1855, Mr. Arthur took up the cause of a poor colored woman who had been expelled from a Fourth avenue car in New York City after paying her fare. He brought an action against the company and recovered five hundred dollars damages for her client. The day after this victory over prejudice was gained, the company who had been defeated in the action, issued a formal order, giving colored people permission to ride in its cars, and in a short time this right became general throughout the city.

Mr. Arthur was one of the delegates at that convention meeting in Saratoga, which founded the republican party. He had been a whig previously, which reminds the writer that the day after he had been nominated for the vice-presidency by the Chicago convention, the late Thaddeus Treadwell said of him: "I have known him for twenty-five years as whig, and republican, and a more loyal party man and truer republican cannot be found anywhere." The nearly seven years which have elapsed since that time, and during which Mr. Arthur's party allegiance has never been questioned, have also made more conspicuous than heretofore, an amiability and noble breadth of sympathy which commanded the friendly regard of persons who differed widely from him in their political views.

Before the civil war Mr. Arthur acted as judge advocate of the Second brigade of the New York state militia. Upon going into office Governor E. D. Morgan made him engineer in chief of his staff, and in 1861, inspector general. This was succeeded by his reappointment under Governor Morgan's appointment, to the responsible position of quartermaster general, in which he continued until the close of the "war governor's" administration. His discharge of his duties was remarkably able and conscientious. In this respect it was absolutely above criticism. Affairs involving the equipment and transportation of hundreds of thousands of men were administered by him in a manner which elicited the greatest confidence and sincere admiration.

When governor Morgan's term of office expired, Mr. Arthur returned to the practice of his profession, which included interests of national importance. He acted for some time as counsel to the board of tax commissioners of New York City. Towards the end of 1871, President Grant appointed him to the colonelship of the port of New York, in which office he remained until June 12, 1873. His removal by President Hayes was strongly contested, as strict investigation showed that his incumbency of his office was characterized by singular efficiency and integrity. As chairman of the republican state committee, Mr. Arthur contributed largely to the strength of his party in the Empire state.

On the 8th of June, 1880, he was nominated to the vice presidency of the United States by the national republican convention held at Chicago, by a vote of 468—afterwards made unanimous—out of a total of 703. The ticket in which his name had place prevailed in the succeeding elections. President Garfield was inaugurated and began his administration under encouraging conditions. Subsequent divisions in the republican party were followed by the assassination of the president, who died on the night of September 19, 1881. President Arthur took the oath of office in his own home in New York City, a few hours after this lamentable event. He was formally inaugurated at Washington, Sept. 22, when he again took the oath of office, which was administered by Chief Justice Waite. The next day he issued a proclamation making the 26th of September, 1881, the day on which the remains of President Garfield were to be interred at Cleveland, Ohio, a day of humiliation and mourning.

President Arthur's administration was considered wise by people who judge of it without party bias. He gained greatly in public esteem by his amiable self-effacement during the illness of President Garfield. After his inauguration he is said to have made good the promise contained in the brief, unpretentious speech which he delivered on that occasion. Referring to his lamented predecessor, he said: "It will be my earnest endeavor to profit and to see that the nation shall profit by his experience."

THE BLIZZARD.

It is Severe on the Lakes and Damaged Related Vessels.

CHICAGO, Nov. 18.—The western blizzard reached this city last night and early this morning the wind was blowing at the rate of thirty-four miles an hour, accompanied by quite a heavy fall of snow.

The storm on the lake continues with considerable fury, and strong winds are prevailing throughout the west, with the air filled with snow. A number of lumber luggers reached port this morning, having lost some canvas and sustained other damage, but no serious disasters have been reported. Railway travel in the west and northwest is greatly delayed and a number of roads in Wisconsin have trains stalled in the drifts.

Reports from all Iowa points indicate snow still falling and drifting badly.

Business Failures.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Nov. 18.—The store of Levi Brock, dealers in notions, was closed by the sheriff yesterday. Liabilities, $20,000; assets unknown.

BAY CITY, Mich., Nov. 18.—Ludwack Bros., lumber manufacturers, have assigned. Liabilities, $30,000; assets, $15,000.

MUSKOGEE, Mich., Nov. 18.—A. E. Treadwell & Co., furniture, carpets, etc., and Levi Treadwell, groceries, had their stores closed on attachments yesterday. Liabilities aggregate $25,000; assets small.

TWO SISTERS.

Are Burned to Death in an Indiana House.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 18.—A New special says that the house of James J. Johnson, near Louisville, burned this morning, and his two daughters, Ella and Minnie, aged respectively eighteen and twenty years, perished in the flames. They occupied the upper rooms and an employee named Turner is probably fatally burned. One of the sons had built a fire at 3 o'clock this morning, and finding it so early went back to bed and it is supposed that it caught from this.

A KICK.

A Republican Protest Against Unseating Democratic Members in Indiana.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 18.—It has leaked out today that a secret conference of several republican members of the legislature was held here last night. The attendance was very large, and those whose seats are being contested by democrats were the most interested and uneasy.

"The utmost secrecy is being observed regarding the conference. Enough, however, is known to warrant the conclusion that the republican senators-elect are thoroughly alarmed at the prospect of being unseated by the democrats if the republicans begin throwing out democrats in the house, and are entering protests against the proposed republican program. They prefer a democratic United States senator rather than risk the loss of four years in the state senate.

This "kicking" on their part may be the solution of the difficulty and force the republicans to allow the democrats to elect their senator in peace. If not there will be more along the line.

Charles J. Jett, speaker of the last house, is in town to-night. He says: "The democratic position is impregnable. A party that has two majorities on joint ballot and the governor of the state is invincible, and the republicans will reach the same conclusion before they begin any revolutionary tactics."

CIVIL SERVICE.

The Philadelphia Postmaster to get a Taste of It.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—It is probable that the civil service commissioners will proceed to Philadelphia Monday next to begin an investigation into the charges made against Postmaster Henry by the Pennsylvania Civil Service reform association. Commissioner Edgerton was adverse to ordering the investigation, and it is doubtful if he will conduct the hearing in Philadelphia. In addition to the formal charges against the postmaster preferred by the civil service reform association several other communications charging political discrimination and violation of civil service rules have been received by the commissioners.

Convicted of Murder.

GRAND RAPIDS, Nov. 18.—Dr. Nathan J. Aiken, the well known physician, was convicted in the superior court, of causing the death of Mary Noel, daughter of a farmer of Grandville, by abortion. He was paid to treat and board the girl until nature relieved her of the difficulty, but used violent means to accomplish the result sooner. The jury retired at 11 o'clock and rendered a verdict at 9 last night. Aiken was badly broken up by the result. He is now in jail, but will appeal to the supreme court.

A. L. HOPKINS.

His Wife, a Noted Beauty, Alleges Adultery.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—Mrs. Lawrence Hopkins, a noted New York beauty and a leader in society, has brought suit for divorce against her husband, Amos Lawrence Hopkins, vice president of the Missouri Pacific Railway company, and son of President Mark Hopkins, of Williams college. Mrs. Hopkins is a daughter of George L. Dunlap, a leading Chicago merchant. The couple have been married seven years. It is said that the ground of the application for divorce is adultery. George Bliss has been retained for Mrs. Hopkins, and Dillon and Wayne, for Mr. Hopkins.

TWO TRAINS

Run Off the Track and Several Persons Are Killed and Injured.

VINCENNES, Ind., Nov. 18.—The north-bound passenger train on the Cairo, Vincennes and Chicago road ran into a fallen tree, Tuesday night, near Lawrenceville, causing a bad wreck and killing the fireman, Fred Esch, and injuring Engineer Barlow. No passengers were hurt.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Nov. 18.—A passenger train on the Newport News and Mississippi Valley road partly ran off a trestle, yesterday, near Triplet trestle. It was caused by a broken wheel. The sleeper was thrown entirely off an eighteen foot trestle. Chief Engineer Lum, the Pullman conductor and several passengers were injured slightly.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Volz very pleasantly entertained a party of young people at their home on Olney street last evening. The occasion was in honor of Miss Webster, Mrs. Volz's sister, who is here guest. Progressive euchre was a feature of the evening, followed by a superb luncheon.

The funeral of the late A. C. McDonald occurred at Columbia City yesterday in the presence of a vast concourse of friends. Many high tributes were paid to the deceased and the friends of the family attended from all over the district.

Four first-class lectures and a grand concert for only one dollar. Such are the privileges offered by the Dollar Lecture Course, inaugurated by the young people of the Wayne Street M. E. church. Dr. J. B. Ridgway delivers the first lecture of the course to-morrow (Friday) evening. Subject, "Richard Cobden, the English Commencer." Single admissions, 25c. Lecture begins at 8 o'clock, city time.

FRIGHTFUL WRECK.

A Huge Mass of Rock and Earth Fell Upon a Passing Train, Crushing Eight People.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 18.—The limited express coming east on the Pittsburg, Cincinnati and St. Louis railroad, due at this city at 6:30 this morning, was wrecked by a huge slide at Jones ferry, at the outskirts of the city, and a number of persons were injured, two of them, it is thought, fatally. The heavy rains of the past thirty-six hours had loosened the earth along the road and the conductor had been notified to proceed carefully. The train was running not more than ten miles an hour and just as it reached Jones ferry a mass of rocks and earth came tumbling down from a precipice forty feet above. The huge mass crashed into the three sleepers, which were in the rear.

The interior of the front car was almost completely demolished. It was the Cincinnati sleeper, and fortunately had a smaller number of passengers than any coach that has gone out of Cincinnati on the limited for months. All of the occupants had risen and most of them were in the forward part of the coach preparing their toilets. The two other sleepers were badly wrecked. The train was taken on to the station, where it was found that eight passengers were seriously hurt, while probably as many more had received painful cuts and bruises.

The list of injured is as follows:

David Aronheim, Pittsburg, head badly hurt and his body and breast crushed. It is feared that he is injured internally and is in a precarious condition.

S. A. Bennett, New York, seriously hurt.

Capt. O. A. Doud, Pittsburg, not dangerously hurt.

Mrs. Lieutenant Glass, Fort Bayard, N. M., slight injury.

E. A. Curtis, New York, severely though not dangerously injured.

J. Lipman, Indianapolis, not seriously injured.

A young lady from Terra Haute, Ind., name not learned, was struck by flying pieces of rock and hurt about the head and body.

Mr. Fowler Washington, D. C., slightly hurt.

A number of other passengers were slightly injured.

Funeral of Mr. Frank Stutzenberger.

The funeral of the late Mr. Frank Stutzenberger occurred, at 9 o'clock this morning, from the Cathedral, where Rev. Father Oesterling officiated and paid high tribute to the character of the deceased. The remains reposed in a costly casket furnished by J. O. Pelletier, the funeral director, and on it lay floral offerings, both numerous and beautiful, notable among them being a tender cross and anchor, woven from tea roses, immortelles, lilies and pansies, the gift of the Misses Mary Phelan and Anna Toomey, of Indianapolis. The cortege was a large one, and besides his neighbors, friends and relatives from La Porte, Deontar, Hessa Cassel, and elsewhere, also attended. His brothers, John and Mike, attended, the latter having been at his bedside constantly since he was summoned home by message. In his turn he breathed his last.

The young man leaves a widow and two children, Frankie, aged twelve, and Laura, aged eight. It is a severe blow to his aged parents, who are stricken with grief at the loss of a dutiful son, kind brother, loving husband and father. Peace to his ashes.

Our druggist informs us that Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup sells better than any other cough medicine.

"Now it's all right, it's all right, darling," said Mrs. Workhard, "I have tested it thoroughly. Salvation Oil will surely cure your pain in the back."

No reason to go along shivering, rubbing your hands and awing your arms to keep warm when you can procure, if a man, an overcoat as low as $2.50, a boy, overcoat as low as $2.00, and children's overcoats down to $1.25, at Children's Emporium, 75 Calhoun street. Hundreds of our people have within the past ten days availed themselves of our immense assortment and low prices to make their selections of heavy garments for winter, and while our sales have been great, we desire to inform our patrons that our assortment is still unimpaired, having this week added over 300 overcoats and 200 suits to fit in sizes. So we can present the largest, best made and lowest priced line of suits and overcoats ever shown here, and we ask you to come in and see them. FARMER'S ESTABLISHMENT, 20 Calhoun street.

THURSDAY, NOV. 18, 1886.

THE CITY NEWS.

Miss Salinger went to New York City this morning.

Rev. Father Denbigh, of Avilla, was in the city yesterday.

Mrs. Lottie Eickensberg, of Toledo, is visiting friends in Fort Wayne.

If all the electric street lamps burn Fort Wayne is the best lighted city in America.

The prohibition vote in the Twelfth congressional district was 1,078 at the last election.

Mr. and Mrs. Mason Long will tonight entertain the Baptist social at their home, No. 86 East Main street.

The Chicago fat stock show closes Saturday. The excursions will then cease and progressive culture will get a show.

Noble county wants a big safe to put court records and books into. It would be a nice receptacle for dinner baskets and such, also.

Simpson M. E. church gives a grand concert and oyster supper to-night in the church, corner of Harrison and Dawson street.

The Sentinel predicted a blizzard in its weather report yesterday and here it is. The Sentinel prints the news and enjoys a great advertising boom, thank you.

On December 1, the bathhouse will close their shops on Sunday. Meat will now keep over Sunday without a refrigerator, and the meat men propose to observe God's day.

While coupling cars at Houtstown, on the Grand Rapids and Indiana railroad the coupling iron broke, and part of it hit Clarence Keyes, a brakeman, on the jaw, knocking out his back teeth. Keyes lives at Kalamazoo.

The Schmitt-Miller company, of Mansfield, Ohio, manufacturers of carriage hardware, are in search of a place to locate. They employ 800 men and it might pay some enterprising Fort Wayne gentleman to strike up a correspondence with them.

Gambling houses, ill-fame hovels and "society" meeting joints are too numerous in this city. Captain Dehl can make a record for himself by ridding the town of these pests. Just about this time railroad men resort the gaming table to drop their monthly earnings and leave a family at home suffering for the necessities of life. Slap it, captain.

On Saturday, November 20, Hon. J. H. Winterbottom and his estimable wife will celebrate their golden wedding at Michigan City. Mr. Winterbottom will also be seventy-four years of age and has not neglected to remember Fort Wayne friends with cards. The occasion will be quietly observed owing to the ill-health of the senator, but old friends will be present from a half-dozen states.

The Y. M. C. A. dates its inception back to 1844. In that year a clerk in one of the eastern cities gathered several of his associates together and offered up prayer for the clerks of that city. Other meetings followed which grew in interest and attendance, and the first organization was effected in Redon in 1851. Now there are at least 3,000 organized societies in the United States, and the association is spreading its work all over the civilized world.

The Pennsylvania lines have again reduced the running time of the limited express west bound between New York and Chicago. That train, instead of leaving New York at 9 a. m., as heretofore, leaves there at 11 a. m., two hours later, arriving in Chicago at 11 a. m. next day, or one hour and thirty minutes later than heretofore, shortening the through time thirty minutes. The time of the limited express east bound will remain the same as ever.

The Pittsburg pay car went west this morning.

Gerhard Schwauck, of Avilla, was in the city to-day.

Peter C. Burwell and Mary A. Tholtz have been licensed to wed.

Several new cases of diphtheria are reported from Frenchtown.

The Fort Wayne commandery, Knights Templar, meets to-night in regular convocation.

Don't forget the Berry street M. E. church concert, fifty voices, the 22th of November.

A two year old child of Michael Koehl died this morning of lung fever, at No. 30 Buchanan street.

Councilman Wabber has called a meeting of the committee on water works for this evening.

Mrs. I. D. G. Nelson continues very ill at Indianapolis and in the past week was considered some worse.

W. H. Miller, of Leipsic, Ohio, drew $400 in the Louisiana lottery and sent his ticket here to be cashed.

The gas well at Munio increases the volume of its output each day. It now emits 1,500,000 feet of gas daily.

The street commissioners were out in the blizzard this morning looking at proposed street and alley openings.

F. M. Zuehlke has taken out a permit to build an addition to his frame house on lot 28, Eliza Hanna's addition, to cost $150.

Scipio Gorrell, a swiftshman of the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago railroad, had his foot hurt at the east yards last night.

Maek Harbaugh, a Bluffton boy, well known here, is now assistant express messenger on the Bee Line road, running to Indianapolis.

W. H. Andrews, traveling agent of the American Express company, was in the city to-day. He went west on the Nickel Plate for an inspection.

Dr. Lloyd Houghton, a graduate of the University of Buffalo, N. Y., has been admitted to practice medicine under the Indiana law.

Wayne Anvil, who was indicted for petit larceny, pleaded guilty before Judge O'Rourke this morning and was sentenced to ten days in jail.

Alma, the two year old child of Albert Thompson, died last night of the croup, at its home, No. 138 Francis street. The funeral occurs to-morrow afternoon.

The Sunday school of Trinity M. E. church, assisted by the choir of the M. E. college, will give a concert at Trinity M. E. church, north side, this evening.

Rev. D. W. Moffat will conduct the services at the Railroad Y. M. C. A. union meeting this evening. The subject will be "From Loss to Gain." All are cordially invited.

The council committee on streets, and rules, regulations and ordinances will meet with City Attorney Colerick tonight and adopt an ordinance permitting a double street railway track on Calhoun street.

Judge A. A. Chapin, this morning, received his commission as superior court judge and will take his office. The preliminary work in Judge Hand's application for a recommitment to superior court will begin next Monday before Judge O'Rourke, who will appoint a commission to superintend the work.

Judge John Morris and Hon. H. O. Bell encountered two men at the corner of Harrison and Jefferson streets, about 7 o'clock, last night. One of the fellows foisted against Senator Bell as if he had designs on his purse or watch, and a hard scuffle ensued, in which both men were bespattered with mud. Judge Morris and the other stranger viewed the contest from across the street, and a crowd assembled, the strangers fled. Chief Dielhl summoned a posse of police, and soon had John Yager and George Russell behind the bars. The men were identified, but Mr. Bell declined to make affidavit against them this morning, and the mayor discharged the young men. Yager is the fellow whom Harry Hamill chastised last summer for his insolence.

The trains all came in on time to-day, although the snow blow hard.

Interesting local, telegraph and miscellaneous news on the inside pages daily. A feature to-day is an interview with Hon. Joseph E. McDonald on Indiana politics.

George Huber, who was indicted for stealing a ring from Emma Stapleford, had a trial this morning, and after hearing the evidence, Judge O'Rourke committed him to jail for thirty days.

In the case of Sam H. Shoaff et al. vs. Frank H. Wolke, Judge Hand approved the deed submitted by George D. Crane, commissioner in the case. In the case of the Huntington National bank vs. John Blee, he awarded the bank a judgment for $204.15.

Augusta Kramer sues Cornelius Carmody for $1,000 damages. A. H. Hittiger is her counsel, and alleges that Carmody entered her house, assaulted her and fired her bodily from her own hearth. This is a continuation of the neighborhood quarrel aired before the mayor, Tuesday.

It is said the United States express company will shortly cease its service on the Grand Rapids road, to be succeeded by the Adams express company which is in high favor with the Pennsylvania company, and that corporation has a lease on the northern road. This crowds the United States express company off of all Fort Wayne roads, giving the Adams, American and Pacific a clear field here.

Judge Edward O'Rourke, last evening, listened to arguments in the friendly suit between A. L. Griebel and J. B. Niezer, relative to the term of office of the county auditor under seemingly conflicting laws. Judge O'Rourke decided that Mr. Griebel having served his full time, his term of office expired with his commission, consequently Mr. Niezer's term began yesterday, November 17. Mr. Griebel appealed from the judgment of the court, and under a bond of $5,000 he will hold the office of auditor until the supreme court passes upon the question. The matter will be taken up at once, and it is anticipated the high court will act upon it inside of a week.

PROGRESSIVE.

Wing & Mahurin Meeting With Chicago Architects.

Architects Wing and Mahurin are in Chicago attending the Western Association of Architects, which met the 17th inst, and lasts for three days. The association has between 300 and 400 members and is composed of all the leading professional architects of the west and northwest, who meet once a year and discuss the work gone over during the building season and exchange ideas, old, for the future. Various subjects relative to the advancement of architecture in every particular, together with sanitary and all special subjects are thoroughly talked over, enabling those who are aiming to improve the style of building the public are putting up, to make them healthier and more comfortable—to come in contact with not only the best talent the country has, but the actual experience of each individual. Also in connection with the convention there is a building material exhibit, and an architectural drawing display, which brings before each member all the latest materials and appliances used in building and the latest works of the best architects. In conversation with these gentlemen prior to their departure, we found it is their intention to take special pains in securing new ideas and designs for their clients next year. Also to secure photographs of the best work that is brought before them, and on their return they will be pleased to have their friends make them a call.

We are not offering old stock at a reduction or quoting prices on a few old relics of days gone by. But have a complete stock of fresh goods, which we can show in all sizes and widths, at prices that sell them readily.
